"Albola lies in the midst of an expanse of vineyards that produce the most exquisite wines". Thus historian Emanuele Repetti described the wines of Castello di Albola in his "Geographical, Physical and Historical Dictionary" of 1833.

Castello di Albola's Chianti Classico is made from Sangiovese grapes cultivated in the traditional manner, providing a pure and authentic expression of the special soils of Radda in Chianti. It is distinguished by elegance, mellowness and great longevity.
